

Dawson Center Part 2

Dr. Pyke returned to the Dawson Center in early November for the next two courses in its series of advanced dentistry techniques for general practitioners. Once again, the lecture part was very informative, this time focusing on anterior teeth esthetics and function. The ensuing “hands-on” portion (limited to only 20 dentists) was intense but inspiring and produced many “aha moments”. Dr. Pyke returned to Fredericton even more committed to the path of becoming a master dentist and providing patients with teeth that (in the words of Dr. Pete Dawson) “look good, feel good, and last a lifetime.”

Dr. Pyke plans on returning to St. Petersburg in April 2008 for the final seminar (“Advanced problem solving in Dentistry”) in the Dawson Center core curriculum.
